

Restricted Jurisdictions Notice

Countries and territories where Bayocean does not provide services.

Issuer • Bayocean Limited

Version • 1.0

Document code • LGL-RJ-10

Effective date • 2 October 2026

1. Restricted jurisdictions

Bayocean does not open accounts for, or provide services to, residents of:

- the United States of America, including its states, territories and possessions; and
- countries and territories subject to United States sanctions programmes, currently: Iran, North Korea, Cuba, Syria, Russia, Belarus, Sudan, South Sudan, Myanmar, Libya, Somalia, Yemen, Afghanistan, and the Crimea, so-called Donetsk People's Republic and so-called Luhansk People's Republic regions of Ukraine.

Sanctions programmes change from time to time. Bayocean applies the sanctions in force at the relevant time, and this list will be updated accordingly.

2. Other jurisdictions

Our website and services are not directed at any person in a jurisdiction where their distribution or use would be contrary to local law or regulation. It is your responsibility to make sure that you are permitted to use our services under the laws of your country of residence.

3. Sanctioned persons

We do not provide services to any person or entity named on, or owned or controlled by a person named on, a sanctions list applied by Bayocean, wherever they live.

4. How we apply this notice

- 4.1 Restricted countries cannot be selected during registration.
- 4.2 We verify residence during identity verification and may also take account of IP addresses, phone numbers, documents and payment information.
- 4.3 If we find that a client is resident in a restricted jurisdiction, or has given false information about residence, we may close the client's accounts and, subject to applicable law and sanctions, return any withdrawable balance through a verified withdrawal method.

5. Introducing brokers

Introducing brokers and partners must not promote Bayocean to residents of restricted jurisdictions.
